The agreement to be entered into is set out in a schedule, and leaseholders are to be allowed three months from the passing of the Ordinance to sign it. I any Crown leaseholder declines to enter into the agreement he is to have no claim to compensation for depreciation of his lot, but "the Governor may, if he thinks fit, award to him such a sum of money or such a Crown lease of new land as he may in his absolute discretion think sufficient as and by way of compensation for any injury that such lotholder may have sustained by the works." Section 7 is as follows :- "Except as in this Ordinance provided, no marine lot-holder or other person shall be entitled to any damages or compensation for the depreciation or injurious affecting of his property or business caused by, or resulting either directly steamer to arrive at the Tientain bund, which or remotely, from any of the works authorised by this Ordinance." affords little room for objection, but the case | Secul. Mr. Hillier is at present Chinese Secreis different if it is intended to preclude al ulaims by sub-lessees for injury to their holdings or their business. The Crown lessess are gainers by the proposed scheme, and naturally they can have no claim against the will be in a south-westerly direction from the number cannot easily be disposed of, or hidden Government unless it be in a very few exceptional cases; but with sub-lessees the case is entirely different, for they may have much to lose and certainly have nothing to gain. Where a person has taken a long lease of premises on the Prava for the sake of the water frontage, to deprive him of that frontage and at the same time sweep away whatever claim for componsation be might have at law would be decidedly unjust. It is conceivable that there may be cases in which the damage would be ruinous if it fell solely on the individual. The work being declared by the Ordinance to be for a public purpose, the sub-lessee would be barred from recovering as against the Crown lessee, and the Government proposes to protect itself . Rules of H.B.M. Supreme and other Courts from liability by the special provision we have quoted. By the third clause of section 6 compensation may in certain cases be given to Crown lease-holders who decline to join in the scheme and whose properties may be depreciated, but sub-lessees are left absojutely without remedy. If they think their interests are likely to be affected they Clomenti Smith there, showed how keenly they Salt Intendant, to hear the charge, the Prefect, would therefore do well to make representations on the subject before the Bill the damage may not amount to much, for a frontage on a principal street is likely in most cases to be as valuable as one on the Praya, but there may be exceptional cases in which the equity of a claim for compensation could not be denied. These are the only points in the Bill which have struck us as possibly likely to require nearly a month since. As to the origin of the amendment. Otherwise the measure is most in carrying out the scheme. THE Police returns for last year show gratifying decrease of crime. The total number of cases reported during 1888 was comitants. result is hardly less gratifying, for although in 1879, the total number of cases reported was only 6,129 as against the 8,114 of last year the increase has been almost wholly confined to minor offences, the serious offences of last year being only 39 in excess of those of 1879; the figures for 1888 are 2,436. Comparing the last five years with the previous five, we find there has been an increase during the last quinquennial period of 27.24 per cent, in the total number of cases reported to the Police, which, at first sight looks rather serious. The increase, however, is credited mainly to minor offences, which are accountable for 38.32 per cent. while serious crime shows an increase of only 7.07 per cent. This is considerably de-mer and other edibles. As we cannot suppose the elements: of crime are any less now than before, the conclusion suggests itself that the criminal classes are more effectively held in check than formerly. HONGKONG VOLUNTEERS' GUN COMPETITION.

The annual nine-inch gun competition of the Volunteers for a prize presented by the Commandant took place at the Battery at Stonecutters' Island on Saturday afternoon; target was a moving one, six feet square, travelling at the rate of six knots per hour, and the approximate distance 1,500 yards. The coinpetitors were the ten non-commissioned officers and men who stood highest on the list in the recent competition for the Challenge Cup, with the sixty-four pr., with the exception of Corporal Collins, who was excluded, he being the winner Schedule, provided that the Governor will grant of the cup on that occasion. The prize was carried this time by Sergeant Osborne, who it may be remembered tied the winner for marksmanship on the last occasion, and only lost the prize ewing to the winner making a few seconds beton Saturday was under the command of Capt. McCallum, who was assisted in the direction of the work at the Battery by the Adjutant, Capt Hawkins, R.A. The shooting, as at the previous competition, was exceptionally good. Of the ten rounds fired, fifty per cent. were effective, while three of the shots were direct hits, a record o which any corps might well be proud. The official scores have not yet been published, but the following were the three highest places ganied :-Sergt Osborne ..... Corpl. Machell Sergt. Scott .....? Gunner Hope.....
